Important information

- Your application cannot be processed without an original or verified copy of your academic transcript.
- In some cases course outlines may be requested in order to assess the structure of the qualification, and the content, level and value of the courses. If previous study is outside of New Zealand you must supply the course outline for each course being assessed for credit.
- If your name is different to that on the academic transcript please provide documentary evidence of the name change.
- If credit is awarded, a fee of $75 will be charged to your student account to transfer this credit to your Lincoln record. This charge is not covered by Studylink or your student loan and therefore must be paid individually.
- Please see the reverse for further information.

Credit at Lincoln University – Information Sheet

Information about credit

Credit is awarded to recognise the quality, nature, level and achievement of previous study taken at a recognised tertiary institution, enabling students to access Lincoln courses at higher levels and to contribute to the total credit required to complete the Lincoln qualification.

Where sufficient acceptable documentation is provided to support the application the credit granted may be specified rather than unspecified where the courses are considered equivalent.

Types of credit

Cross Credit – the award of credits towards a Lincoln University qualification on the basis of passes that have also been credited to another qualification.

Transfer Credit – the award of credits towards a qualification on the basis of passes that have been obtained at an institution of higher learning other than Lincoln University while studying for another qualification but not credited to that or any other qualification.

Specified Credit – credit awarded for a particular course that is substantially equivalent in content and level to a course offered at Lincoln University.

Unspecified Credit – credit awarded for a course that corresponds to a Lincoln University course but is not substantial enough to award a specified credit. Unspecified credit can help make up the number of courses needed for a degree but cannot be used for prerequisites.

Exemption – if a student is granted an exemption for a course, they do not have to enrol in that course even if it is a core course for their degree. The exemption can be used as a prerequisite course but does not count as credit towards their degree.

Non-credentialled learning – credit awarded for uncertified or non-credentialled learning is based on an assessment of the applicant's achievements in relation to the specific learning outcomes of the Lincoln course for which credit is sought.

Concessions

In particular cases the Academic Board may relax or vary these regulations, or any rules made under these regulations, in order to mitigate hardship.

Credit is not awarded in the following circumstances:

- For courses more than five years old
- When any grade is equivalent to less than 50% i.e. some Restricted Passes
- For courses at 300 level or higher, in this case the student may be entitled to a 200 level unspecified credit
- For two substantially equivalent courses to the one qualification
- In stand-alone Bachelor's degrees with honours
- In postgraduate programmes

Process

Applications for credit must be made using this Credit Application form available from Student Administration, or as a download from the Lincoln University website. Adequate documentation must be provided to support the application before assessment can begin.

Credit applications can take several weeks to finalise so applicants are encouraged to apply well before they intend to begin their studies. While the University endeavours to ensure all applications for credit are finalised by the start of the semester, it cannot be held responsible for applications arriving with insufficient time to process. In those cases students may have to delay the start of their studies, apply for prerequisite dispensations, or structure their course in case the expected outcome of an application does not occur.

Fee

Lincoln University does not charge for the credit assessment; however there will be a $75 fee for transferring any credit/exemptions awarded to your Lincoln University academic record.

Payment can be made at the cashier's desk (Student Finance, ground floor, George Forbes building), via internet banking ASB 12 3147 0016000 or by credit card. Please ensure that you quote your student number and name on all types of payments.

The following students are exempt from the fee:

Current or returning Lincoln University students applying to cross credit from a completed Lincoln qualification to a higher level Lincoln qualification.
