

CBRE Trevor Kitchin Memorial Scholarship Rural Land and Property

Regulations

Background

CBRE is one of the largest real estate firms in the world with over 100,000 employees in 480+ offices in over 100 countries. CBRE (including Telfer Young from CBRE) employs over 390 people across 19 locations in New Zealand providing the full range of real estate services including valuation, agency, agri-services, debt and equity, property management, research, building depreciation & cost consultancy, structured transactions & advisory services and marketing.

Trevor Kitchin was a Lincoln graduate and well respected experienced rural valuer. Trevor was an enormous part of the Hawkes Bay and Gisborne team, having been part of the business for over 33 years. He was well known as a supportive colleague, mentor and great friend to many. He was involved in the Institute, always willing to assist a fellow professional and passionate about training graduates. He also believed in good work life balance. Unfortunately we lost Trevor very suddenly in Sept 22, and he has left a huge hole in our team. The naming of this scholarship the "Trevor Kitchin Rural Scholarship", is right on so many levels.

The CBRE Trevor Kitchin Rural Scholarship is specifically aimed at assisting rural talent excel at property studies at Lincoln University while memorializing Trevor and his immense contribution to the rural property industry.
